

12th ADO Young Scientist Retreat

Basic and translational research in Dermato-Oncology

September 9–10, 2025 | MFZ at the University Hospital Essen

Are you conducting research on a dermatological oncology topic—in a clinic or lab?

Then the ADO Young Talent Retreat is your chance to present your project, network, and gain new inspiration for your career!

Who can participate?

Young scientists (in medicine or natural sciences) whose research focuses on topics related to dermatological oncology.

What can you expect?

- ✓ Short presentation of your project or project plan (8–10 minutes + discussion)
- ✓ Exchange ideas with experts and other young researchers
- ✓ Gain insights into current developments in dermatological oncology
- ✓ Scientific keynotes and opportunities for networking
- ✓ Optional: present your project as an ePoster at the 35th German Skin Cancer Congress at Messe Ost in Essen (September 10–13)

Costs? None!

The ADO will cover:

- ✓ Travel (DB-Ticket, 2nd class)
- ✓ 2 nights in a hotel
- ✓ Registration fee and catering for the retreat
- ✓ Registration fee with subsequent participation in the congress

Apply now – here's how:

1. Scan QR code
2. Fill in the form and download the abstract template
3. Send abstract with your project or work plan to ado@conventus.de by June 25

12th ADO Young Scientist Retreat
– Abstract submission

There are only 16 spots available – in case of high demand, a selection committee will decide.

Questions? Feel free to write to us, talk to your local team, or take a look here:

www.ado-kongress.de/programm-abstracts/12-ado-nachwuchs-retreat.

We look forward to receiving your application and your research idea!

Sebastian Haferkamp, Regensburg

Alpaslan Tasdogan, Essen

Georg Lodde

Scientific chair

